Subject: RE: q fr reporter on ISA on PM

FYI, Jack Harkema was interviewed on CNN in response to the CASAC changes. I can't find the whole clip, but I've found snippets in articles:

"Protecting the public's health from dangerous amounts of pollutants in the air that we all breathe is the mandate of this agency," Jack Harkema, a professor of pathobiology and diagnostic investigation at Michigan State University, told CNN. "This cannot be done without careful, deliberate and knowledgeable understanding [of] this complex environmental health issue. Multidisciplinary teams of scientific experts must be free to conduct thorough peer-review of the pertinent science. Millions of lives are at stake."

The reason that is OK is that the reporter and media already picked up on it any way...

Hi all – Here are draft responses. Let me know what you think. Thanks.

Q: At this point, I would just like to confirm that it is the product of the PM review panel that was informed recently by EPA that its services are no longer required. Is that correct?

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Q: If so, on what day were you notified of the dissolution of the panel?

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Similar question sent to OPA: On what day did EPA inform the members of the panel that it would be dissolved?

Hello. I've seen the draft, although I have not looked it over yet (though I will). At this point, I would just like to confirm that it is the product of the PM review panel that was informed recently by EPA that its services are no longer required. Is that correct? If so, on what day were you notified of the dissolution of the panel?

Thank you.
